DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The indicated allowability of claims 3 and 4 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to U.S. Patent No. 6,944,258. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 of U.S. Patent No. 6,944,258 in view of Feldman et al. (US Patent 5095431).

U.S. Patent No. 6,944,258 claims a beam hardening post-processing method and an X-ray CT system configured to position a phantom, scan the phantom, produce one sinogram, correct first projection information, fit a first function, fit a second function, and correct projection information (claims 1-3).

However, U.S. Patent No. 6,944,258 fails to claim an oblong section.

Feldman et al. teaches an oblong section (fig. 4, #32).

It would have been obvious, to one having ordinary skill in the art, to conclude that the invention defined in the claims at issue would have been an obvious variation of the invention defined in the claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,944,258 with the oblong section of Feldman et al., since one would be motivated to make such a modification for reducing operations (col. 3, lines 4-11 and 23-27) as implied from Feldman et al.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1, 2, and 5-8 are allowed. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter.

Regarding claim 1, prior art fails to disclose or fairly suggest a correction coefficient calculating method for X-ray CT systems including the step of determining a first correction coefficient and a second correction coefficient, wherein calculating a final correction coefficient comprises computing the final correction coefficient from the first and second correction coefficients, wherein the first coefficient is calculated from a phantom having a first shape different than a second shape of a phantom used to calculate the second correction coefficient, in combination with all the limitations in the claim. Claims 2 and 5-8 are allowed by virtue of their dependency.
